Sentencing slated today

Jury returns manslaughter verdict in shooting death

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Cecil Frances (Frank) Turner received a guilty verdict on the charges of manslaughter Wednesday from a five-woman, five-man jury in Hancock County Circuit Court.

Judge Ruble Griffin is scheduled to sentence Turner today.

Turner was tried for the Feb. 15, 1984 shooting death of Lewis Meyers, Sr. at Ashers' Grocery Store in Waveland.

According to testimony during the trial, which began Monday morning, Turner was talking on the telephone at the store when Meyers and his brother, Kenneth Meyers approached the store to talk with Turner.

Following a brief and heated discussion, Turner shot Lewis Meyers once and Kenneth Meyers three times, witnesses said.

The one shot that hit Lewis Meyers went through both legs and severed the femoral artery in his right leg, according to the autopsy report.

Testimony by Pathologist J. D. Rutherford Jr. revealed that Lewis Meyers had bled to death as a result of the artery being severed.

Turner testified that he had shot Meyers in self-defense in a statement taken a couple of hours after the incident by Hancock County Investigator Delbert Seay.

Turner said he shot Lewis Meyers because Meyers had started backing up and reaching in his pocket.

"I know he was going to shoot me," Turner said.

Next, Turner said Kenneth Meyers had started reaching under the car seat and he then shot Kenneth Meyers, and a .22 caliber automatic, found in Turner's truck.

In closing remarks, Assistant District Attorney Jay Goldman urged the jurors to return a guilty verdict of murder for Turner, who had admitted to shooting Meyers.

"The issue is whether or not he (Turner) was justified for killing a man," Goldman said.

Members of the jury took nearly three hours to return their verdict.

Sons of sea god Poseidon to bring 11th year of Mardi Gras merriment

The Krewe of Triton was formed in 1975 to add to the merriment of the Mardi Gras celebration in Waveland and Bay St. Louis. For the past ten years, Triton has presented a dinner-dance and parade.

Organized by a group of business and professional men, the krewe took its name from Greek mythology. Triton was the son of the sea god, Poseidon, and his wife, Amphitrite.

Triton lived with his parents in a golden palace in the depths of the sea. He was represented as human down to his waist, with a tail of a fish.

Triton's special attribute was a twisted seashell, on which he blew to calm or raise the waves.

This organization is a far cry from the 80 plus gentlemen who paraded for the initial time on Shrove Tuesday in 1975 and presented King Triton I, Evert P. (Hungry) McNichols.

There were ten units in the parade with the theme "It's Party Time."

For eight years, Triton's royalty depicted only a king, a member of the King's Club chosen by lot.

The lucky gentlemen to reign as King Triton were Raymond Earl Kidd Jr., Edward W. Scanlan Jr.,

Fred J. Peterman Jr., G. Lynn McGeehee, Harmon E. Turan, John D. Rutherford Jr., and Nicholas M. Haas.

The themes these years ranged from "Famous Lovers," "Haunted House," and "Great Explorers" to "Adventure Classics."

The Krewe of Triton came up with a colorful innovation in 1981 when the officers proudly presented royal maids at the tableau. For three years, the maids were college-age relatives or daughters of members.

Last year the maids were wives of the members.

Another change made in 1984 was the addition of dukes. These dukes were chosen from the membership.

In 1983 King Triton IX, Robert G. Hubbard III, presented Triton's first queen, Barbara Rappold, Queen Amphitrite I, for the tenth anniversary, the theme was "Recollections" and the royal couple was Russell Elliott and Mrs. Gerard Boos.

It didn't take long for Triton to increase its membership to 135. The business and professional membership extends from Pass Christian to New Orleans.

This year the captain, the officers and the members of Triton are enthusiastic about the change of the tableau and dinner-dance to the Mississippi Coast Coliseum, as they have outgrown the local facilities.

The tableau will be held on Saturday, Feb. 16 and King Triton XI and Queen Amphitrite III will be presented to the guests, along with the royal maids and dukes.

Edward W. Scanlan Jr. designs the colorful floats, as well as the costumes.

Triton's annual haunted house during Halloween helps defray operating expenses for the tableau and the parade.

The parade will be held on Mardi

Gras Day and will feature 17 units, followed by Krewe of Hancock entries.

The parade will begin at 2 p.m. at Our Shopping Center on US-90 in Waveland and will proceed east on US-90 to the A&P Shopping Center in Bay St. Louis.

Applications may be sent to the Unique Shop on US-90, Waveland, or applicants may call 467-0649.

THE MARDI GRAS SPIRIT holds sway on the Gulf Coast with parades to continue Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday in Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Diamondhead and Pass Christian. Diamondhead's parades to meet at Yacht Club

The Krewe of Diamondhead parade will begin noon Saturday at the Diamondhead Country Club and proceed to the Diamondhead Yacht Club where the land parade will meet the sea parade, with the royalty of both greeting with a toast.

Robert H. Barnes of Diamondhead, general manager of Diamondhead Country Club and Property Owners Association, Inc., will be grand marshal.

Prior to coming to Diamondhead, Barnes served as director of Resort Operations in Angel Fire, New Mexico and general manager of Pecan Plantation Country Club in Fort Worth, Tex.

Barnes served as president of the Texas Chapter of Club Managers Association of America from 1980-81.

and served on the board for five years.

He was reared in central Florida and attended the University of Florida.

He is a resident of Diamondhead, along with his wife, Jane Lee. They have four grown children living in Texas.

Any group or persons wanting to enter a float, marching group, band or any other entry, may contact Parade Lieutenant Chris Arnos at 255-7297.

Captain Benny Mistretta, reports judges for the land parade will be Alice Holmes, Louie Smolevsky and Ethel Schott.

Holmes, a resident of Bay St. Louis for 13 years, is married to John F. Holmes. They have three children.

She is a graduate of Wellesley College in Massachusetts; member, producer, actress, set designer and director for the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre.

Holmes is a past president of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club and Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs and is an accredited flower show judge.

She is on the Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council, serving on the local neighborhood and council levels.

Smolevsky is an alderman for Waveland and resides in Waveland with his wife, the former Jane Farry, and their seven-year-old daughter Sara.

Krewe of Kids to parade

The annual Krewe of Kids Parade is set for Saturday, Feb. 16 at 3 p.m.

The parade begins at North Bay Elementary School and will travel north on Dunbar, east on Boardman, north on A Street, west on Leonhard and south on Dunbar to return to North Bay Elementary School.

All children are invited to participate and should be in costume, have their own throws, and be ready by 2:30 p.m.

Children can ride bicycles, wagons, etc. or walk; small children must be accompanied by an adult.

The parade is being coordinated by the Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary.

Port and Harbor commission rejects 'free' engineering

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commissioners voted Monday to retain the right to name the project engineer for the construction of a parking apron and roads at Stennis International Airpark.

The planned work is part of an agreement by the commission with Smith and Smith Aircraft. Smith and Smith has purchased acreage at Stennis and is planning to build a facility at the airpark.

Smith and Smith had offered to provide their own engineer at no cost to the commission.

"I just don't think we should lose control," Ronald Artigues, president of the commission, said.

"We should retain control even if it costs the board engineering fees of several thousand dollars," Commission David McDonald said.

The estimated cost of the project is approximately $250,000 and engineering fees for the project could run as high as $30,000.

In other business, Artigues named commissioners Nancy Gex, McDonald and Jerry Seuzeneau to a committee to study bids submitted by security agencies for Port Bienville.

The three low project bidders, Day Detective, Gulf Coast Securities and Coast Security, were separated by only six cents.

Commissioner Seuzeneau told the board that the capabilities of the agency must be considered, not just the price per hour.

Carlos Cordon of Borgen Engineering, Inc. told the board that no bids had been received in answer to an advertisement for a laboratory to do testing for airport projects.

He recommended that the board appoint McClellan Engineers, Inc. to do the testing. Cordon based his recommendation on past work with McClellan.

The commission approved his recommendation.

Finally the commission voted to pay Southland Enterprises partial payments of $60,968 for drainage work and $32,918 for sewage work. Both the drainage and sewage projects are underway at Stennis.

MAYBE IT'S NERVES

Quite often patients come to our clinic saying, "There's nothing wrong with me, it's just my nerves." They tell me their doctor told them to relax or take a vacation or a tranquilizer. Well, nerves are flesh and tissue, just like other parts of the body and they have the most important job in the body to perform. Nerves can be slow just as other areas of the body. Most often, nerves are not the problem, but the mind and the body are very inside, with muscle indigestion and all the symptoms that can attend a case of NERVES. The case of this grandmother was truly terrifying as she was emotionally distraught when she arrived at the clinic. She was even afraid to ride in a car or leave the house and her disposition was not pleasant, to say the least. But, fortunately, because of the efforts of her children, Chiropractic care played an important role in her recovery, and her good pleasing nature and joy for life returned.

"Since my accident I've needed lots of physical therapy. The folks at Hancock General Hospital have been great helping me get back on my feet.

"Hancock has also been great about making my visits as easy as possible. Hancock accepts the American Express Card. That means I can go directly to therapy and forget about stopping by the business office or the cashier. Whatever my insurance doesn't pay is charged to the American Express Card. I take care of it with one simple monthly payment.

Franckiewicz to seek Bay mayoral post

Professional planner Victor J. Franckiewicz Jr. reports he will again seek the Bay St. Louis mayoral position.

Franckiewicz, 30, is a Bay St. Louis native and a Democrat.

"If elected, my first priority will be to get the city's day-to-day operations in order; to organize and motivate the city's work force, plan more efficient maintenance programs, and see that consultants and construction contractors do their jobs properly," Franckiewicz said.

"Once the city is put on a sound, businesslike basis, we can begin to move ahead," he said. "I am committed to providing services to the annexed area."

"I want to promote more cooperation with Waveland and the county. I believe that we can improve the image of our community to attract the right kind of development."

"My training, experience at the local, state, and federal levels of government, combined with a career in private industry, give me the background to run the city and the leadership to improve it," he said.

Franckiewicz is employed by Martin-Marietta Corp., Michoud Division, as supervisor of long-range planning.

His previous employment includes planning positions with Gulf Regional Planning Commission and the Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources.

The candidate graduated from St. Stanislaus High School in 1972, was valedictorian of his class and was a National Merit finalist, receiving a scholarship to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he earned a master's degree in city planning in 1976.

Franckiewicz is a member of the Hancock County Jail Committee, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Mississippi First, Our Lady of the Gulf Parish Council and the Board of Directors of the Bay St. Louis Little Theater.

He has served on the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

USM arson expert asset to law enforcement

A University of Southern Mississippi arson expert has helped uncover a major Deep South arson-for-profit ring, leading to the arrest of five persons and the recovery of property valued in excess of $150,000.

Dr. Dennis V. Canfield, director of forensic science at USM and an arson expert who also teaches courses on explosives and drug identification, recently was commended for his role in the investigation by Youngmaster Claim Service on behalf of the Natchez-based Early American Insurance Company.

Canfield examined fire-scene evidence and concluded that cigarette lighter fluid was used as an accelerant to burn property that was the subject of the insurance investigation.

Mike Smith of Hattiesburg, a former USM student of Canfield's and an adjustor for USF&G Insurance Company, assisted in the examination.

The commendation from senior adjustor Verlon O. Young stated that Canfield's "expert findings" and "prompt assistance" resulted in the insured and an accomplice being arrested and charged with two counts each of arson with intent to defraud an insurance company.

The accomplice has confessed to the use of cigarette lighter fluid as an accelerant used to burn the property. The fluid was poured onto the living room carpet at the wall base and ignited," said Young.

Young also stated, "As a result of this case and (Canfield's) expert findings, we have uncovered one of the largest arson-for-profit, fraud and burglary rings ever to exist in this area. Five arrests have been made, others are expected and property valued in excess of $150,000 has been recovered in the ongoing investigation by Louisiana and Mississippi authorities."

"The insured is the ring leader with this fire being his sixth personal fire claim in the past 15 years, all suspicious in nature," he added, noting the identities of the three additional people arrested were not immediately available.

Young also said "murder and/or manslaughter (charges) could surface on the ongoing investigation," He called Canfield as "asset to the insurance industry, as well as to law enforcement."

Canfield, in addition to his duties at USM, has worked as a consultant for major insurance companies—including Nationwide, State Farm, Allstate and Zurich American.

He has been hired by courts, prosecutors and defense lawyers to examine materials, and has been a consultant to the city of New York Law Department and the Louisiana Fire Marshal's office. He also helped the Huntsville, Ala., Police Department establish an arson unit. Most recently, Canfield worked on the Marion Albert Pruitt case involving the kidnapping and killing of a north Mississippi bank teller. Pruitt ultimately was convicted and faces the death penalty.

Explaining forensic science as the collection and identification of physical evidence for courtroom presentation, Canfield said his work is personally satisfying because he is helping save the public money—whether it results in a civil or criminal trial.

Canfield estimated that some $2 billion nationwide is lost each year to arson, adding that Mississippi has one of the largest arson rates in the country.

"If an insurance company has to pay out money to those who are actually stealing from the public," he pointed out, "then the people of the state are the ones paying for the actions of those defrauding insurance companies."

"This fraud causes insurance companies to issue fewer policies at higher rates—depriving the honest people of coverage because of the actions of the dishonest," he explained.

Through resulting lower insurance rates, the people of Mississippi are the ones who actually benefit when arsonists are convicted," Canfield added.

Vo-tech education seen as learning experience

This week is National Vocational Education Week—an important time to think about the impact of vocational education on the community and nation.

At a time when excellence in education is a top priority on the national, state, and local levels, the theme for the week, 'Vocational Education: Real Learning,' communicates the concept of vocational education as a learning experience.

Vocational education is charged with preparing people for work and achieves its goal through the teaching of specific careers which train young people and adults for the job market.

Students of vocational education learn to perform a skill through laboratory experiences and classroom instruction.

The wide range of careers include fields such as industry, marketing, distribution of goods and services, agriculture, health, business, home economics and related areas.

This year alone, approximately 170,000 people will be trained at the 104 vocational-technical centers strategically located throughout Mississippi.

Working with business and industry, vocational education instructors are able to give their students on the job training as a complement to their classroom instruction.

This makes it possible to design customized vocational-technical training programs to meet the new demands of the workplace, especially in high-tech industries. Vocational education programs contribute to the welfare of local communities by preparing citizens for the demand of the changing workplace. As community planners press forward to make decisions about the future, they must examine employment projections.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics projects that in the coming decade less than 20 percent of the available jobs will require a baccalaureate degree. This makes it even more critical for vocational education to help meet the needs of the 1990's.

As the pace of technological, social, and economic change accelerates, vocational education must be there to provide the real learning needed for the very real demands of business and industry.

National Vocational Education Week is an appropriate time for business and industry leaders to explore how they might work more closely with vocational education to achieve new standards of excellence for preparing future workers that are vital to their businesses and to the general welfare of communities.

The Krewe of Nereids was greeted with sunny skies last Sunday in Waveland.

It appeared a record number of persons were on hand for the big parade, even though it was a little on the cool side.

Mardi Gras continues this weekend with the Krewe of Diamondhead's Land and Sea parades set for Saturday afternoon.

The Krewe of Kids parade in the Cedar Point area is also set for Saturday afternoon.

On Sunday the Annual St. Paul's Carnival Association parade in Pass Christian is set for 2 p.m.

Everything leads up to Mardi Gras Day which will be next Tuesday which will have several parades in the area.

So Mardi Gras season is coming to a fast close.

Many folks appear to have been having problems with the severe winter weather in recent weeks.

There have been many cases of the flu and colds, as almost anyone you talk to is sick or had been.

The quick changes in temperatures probably have had some effect on so many people being sick.

We don't know about you, but we are looking for the warmer weather.

Bay St. Louis and Hancock County school systems educators have scheduled a rally tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Bay Junior High.

Much has been published about teachers in their quest for pay raises in recent months.

Teachers are hoping many community leaders, parents, and concerned citizens will attend the rally.

The teachers would like to hear comments from the public as there will be a question and answer session.

AMERICAN LEGION BENEFIT—A benefit meatball and spaghetti dinner for Jimmy Dean's campaign for National Commander in 1986 was held last week at the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139 in Bay St. Louis. The dinner was sponsored by Post No. 139 which received assistance from members of Post No. 77 in addition to the Auxiliaries and other veterans organizations. Among those attending are, from left,

Al Sunny, Post No. 139 trustee; and Jack Doyle, Post No. 77's service officer and Ninth District commander. Dean of Corinth, Miss., hopes to be the first Mississippian to be elected as the American Legion's National Commander. American Legion and Veterans organizations throughout the state are giving benefits to raise the funds necessary for Dean's campaign. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas.)

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

CAN WE AFFORD EIGHT UNIVERSITIES?

We have made no secret in recent weeks about our position on the need for the Board of Trustees of the Institutions of Higher Learning to review the cost of operating eight state-supported universities in Mississippi. I realize that this is an emotional, political issue but the fact remains that Mississippi must review all our programs to insure that we are getting the maximum value out of every tax dollar our people pay.

The recently completed Foster study of the eight universities points out that our state needs to take some action about university spending. The study, supported with $100,000 from the State College Board, reviews the present situation in upper division higher education in our state.

Personally, I felt that the study dwelt too much on just two of the universities—Mississippi Valley State University and Mississippi University for Women—when it should have reviewed the strong and weak points of all eight universities.

The report notes that our universities have experienced declining enrollments since 1977, that faculty want higher salaries, that our university libraries need updating, and that equipment needs at universities continue to increase in this era of ever-changing technologies. All these observations mean more money. But our state does not have more money.

Instead of just throwing money at these problems, the College Board should be reviewing programs that overlap from one university to another. Every university can no longer be all things to all people.

Our university system should not be a community college system, with nearby universities in every hometown; that's what our public junior colleges are for.

The Foster report also calls for "substantial upgrading" if all eight of our universities are to remain in operation. Again, this is a cost our state cannot afford.

The statistics in the report note that some of our universities have faculty-student ratios as low as 14 to 1, but others have high ratios and the state average is around 17 or 18 to 1. Some of the universities, the study said, make maximum use of their classroom space but others do not.

But there are even greater considerations to the question of university or program consolidation. Are we giving our college students the best education available? Are they graduating from college with skills or knowledge that will enable them to become productive citizens in the professional job market?

Do our college graduates require retraining in basic skills areas like reading, writing and arithmetic, thus creating a need for a massive remedial education system in our state? Are our universities responsible for correcting the educational mistakes of our elementary and secondary schools?

It is the constitutional responsibility of the State College Board to answer these questions and to develop a state university system that meets the needs of our state.

If action is not taken immediately to upgrade our university system, all the universities will suffer from the on-going controversy. Many Mississippians know that students are graduating from our universities with far less than adequate education.

The time has come for the College Board to take action to correct these errors. The board should make recommendations now, while the Legislature is in session, for changes in our universities. If we postpone action much longer, our college students will suffer the consequences.

PROJECT SECOND CHANCE We keynoted a statewide conference Monday, Feb. 11 to kick off "Project Second Chance," to allow churches and other organizations to "adopt" former state prison inmates.

The conference was held from 10 a.m. to noon at the Department of Public Safety Headquarters, first floor conference room.

The conference, sponsored by the Governor's Office of Voluntary Citizen Participation also featured input from representatives of the Department of Corrections and Parole Board. It was open to the public.

More than 200 churches and organizations involved in prison ministry joined us at this conference. The meeting was the first massive involvement by the private sector in helping ex-offenders to lead useful, productive lives.

We will be asking conference participants to help us develop a statewide support system that will help the former inmates find places to live, jobs, and necessary education or job training programs.

The conference will develop suggestions on the best ways to organize this effort to benefit the state and former inmates.

Our aim is to organize a program that will give former inmates, who have paid their debt to society, a second chance. We believe that with these supports, they will be able to live conventional lives and will be far less likely to return to prison.

HOUSEKEEPING

A Weekly Summary Of
Mississippi House
Of Representatives

Public school teachers would get a pay raise of up to $8,000 in state and local funds over the next four years under a bill being studied in the Mississippi House of Representatives.

The measure was introduced last week in what sponsors said would serve as a "starting point" on the legislation. A number of revisions could be made before the bill is ready for action by the full House.

Teachers' salaries have been a key issue since the 1985 session began. Most lawmakers agree a pay raise should be approved for teachers, state employees and personnel at the universities and junior colleges, but legislators differ on the amount of increase and how to fund it.

The plan unveiled last week by Reps. Robert Clark of Ebenezer and Tom Walman of McComb calls for a $2,000 pay hike in the coming year with additional raises of $1,500 in each of the three years thereafter.

However, the proposal would require local school districts to put up matching funds to qualify for the $1,500 in state money. The matching requirement, after the initial $2,000, for local districts would amount to $500 in each of the next three years (or, a contribution of $500 the second year, $1,000 the third year and $1,500 the fourth year.)

The proposal also contains a teacher insurance provision under which the state would pay 55 percent of the cost in the first year; local districts would pay 35 percent, and teachers would pay 10 percent. The state's participation would gradually be phased out over the next six years, with the local districts picking up the difference.

The introduction of the bill followed a series of meetings between House and Senate members in an effort to reach a consensus on a teacher pay and revenue package.

The House proposal includes approximately $95 million in new revenues with proposed increases on items such as beer, cigarettes, soft drinks, liquor, private sale of cars, newspaper advertising, and video (Pac Man) games.

Committee action took priority during the past week in the House as lawmakers worked at a brisk pace to meet a deadline for reporting general bills and constitutional amendments. The emphasis shifts to floor action this week with scores of bills awaiting consideration prior to a Feb. 14 deadline for passage of House-originated bills. The cutoff does not apply to revenue bills or appropriations, which are covered by a separate legislative timetable.

The House gave unanimous approval to a bill that would authorize the City of Pascagoula, Jackson County and the Jackson County Port Authority to enter a contract with the navy for development of a home port for a battleship surface Action Group.

Backers said Pascagoula is among several Gulf Coast cities competing for the port which could generate more than 7,600 jobs and $7.8 million annually in state and local taxes.

Other House action last week included passage of a bill designed to boost penalties for stealing from commercial fish farmers; approval of a bill to authorize an Arkansas-Mississippi Great River Bridge construction compact; approval of a bill to reduce the minimum mandatory sentence which first offenders must serve before being eligible for parole following an armed robbery conviction; and the release to the Senate of a bill that would allow divorces for irreconcilable differences when the couple has been unable to reach a property or custody agreement.

A large stack of bills won committee approval last week, moving into position for possible floor action this week. Among the proposals ready for consideration this week were measures that would:

—Establish a Home Rule plan for county governments. A similar Home Rule law already has been approved by the House for municipal governments.

—A constitutional amendment to create a special trust fund for education and economic development purposes.

—A constitutional amendment aimed at establishing more realistic conflict of interest standards for public officials and employees, including a public disclosure requirement suggested by the state Ethics Commission. The proposal would be submitted to the people for ratification next year if it wins legislative approval.

—A proposed salary increase for state legislators, boosting the base pay from $8,100 to $10,000 for a session and raising the daily allowance for meals, motel, etc., during a session from $44 to $67. If approved, proponents said it would be the first time legislative salaries have been increased in Mississippi since 1976.

—Provide an increase in state payments to Chickasaw Cession school districts in 24 counties in north Mississippi.

—Establish a life and health insurance guaranty association to help protect policyholders against companies which go broke.

—Permit the operation of multi-bank holding companies in the state.

—Authorize an annual salary increase of $2,000 for county supervisors and sheriffs.

POST OFFICE POTPOURRI

By TOM HILL
Postmaster,
Bay St. Louis

This week we will discuss some highlights of the upcoming postal rate changes affecting international mail, also to be effective Feb. 17. The basic airmail rate which applies to all countries except Canada, Mexico, Columbia, Venezuela, Central America, the Caribbean Islands, Bahamas, Bermuda, St. Pierre and Miquelon will increase from 40 cents to 44 cents per half-ounce up to two ounces.

Canada and Mexico will continue to be the same as U.S. postage, increasing from 20 cents to 22 cents for the first ounce and requiring 17 cents for each additional ounce.

The rest of the countries named above will increase from 35 cents to 39 cents per half-ounce for the first two ounces for the airmail rate.

The price of letters going by surface transportation will rise from 30 cents to 37 cents for the first ounce.

Post Cards for all counties except Canada and Mexico will cost 25 cents by surface and 33 cents by air, up from 19 and 28 cents, respectively.

Aerogrammes will increase from 30 cents to 36 cents.

For more information, please contact your local post office.

In addition to rate changes, there will also be some service changes concerning the postal procedures for forwarding of mail. These will be briefly discussed in the next issue with this column.

These are much less costly than a casket. The funeral director may not say that state or local law requires a casket for direct cremations. An unfinished wood box must be available for direct cremation.

6. Required Purchase—The consumer does not have to purchase unwanted goods or services as a condition of obtaining those desired.

If any item is required by law, the specific law must be stated in writing. Consumers must be given the right to select and buy only those services and goods desired.

Packaged deals may be offered in addition to individually selected purchases.

Consumer Update

From Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

New funeral ruling
Each year Americans arrange for more than two million funerals. During this time of stress and grief, consumers often find it difficult to obtain information and to make logical choices. For many families, a funeral is the third most expensive purchase, following a home and a car. The average cost of funerals is $2,400.

A new Federal Trade Commission regulation became effective April 30, 1984 which regulates the funeral industry. The rule is intended to provide consumers sufficient information to make informed decisions.

It also intends to ensure that consumers are not required to pay for good and services they don't want or need, and that state and local legal requirements are not misrepresented. Terms of the new rule include:

1. Telephone Price Disclosures—Consumers must be given price and other information when it is requested over the phone.

2. General Price List—When a person inquires in person, the funeral provider must furnish a general price list which you can keep. It must include prices of individual items and services such as embalming, cash advance sales (such as newspaper notices or flowers), caskets for cremation and any required purchases.

3. Embalming Information—The funeral provider must give consumers information about embalming that can help them decide whether to purchase the service. The provider may not falsely claim that embalming is required by law and must disclose in writing that, except in certain cases, embalming is not required by law.

The provider will disclose in writing that the consumer has a right to choose a disposition such as direct cremation or immediate burial if embalming is not wanted.

The provider will disclose in writing that certain funeral arrangements such as viewing may make embalming a practical necessity and thus a required purchase.

4. Cash Advance Sales—Funeral providers must disclose in writing if they charge a fee or service charge for buying cash advance items such as flowers, obituary notices, pallbearers and clergy honoraria.

5. Caskets for Cremation—If cremation is chosen, the funeral provider must offer either an inexpensive alternative container or an unfinished wood box.

The alternative container is a non-metal enclosure used to hold the deceased, and it may be pressboard, cardboard or canvas.

MISSISSIPPI ROADS

The next program in the rebroadcast of "Mississippi Roads" on Mississippi ETV makes stops in Petal, McComb, Jackson, Amory, Greenville and Belzoni. This second season of "Mississippi Roads" was first seen on ETV last fall.

The program can be seen at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 19.

The show leads off with M.W. Hamilton of Petal, an avid collector and owner of the Mississippi Machinery Museum. His collection ranges from ordinary machines to a C-47 cargo plane, a twin rotor helicopter and a Jupiter rocket.

Lynn Swigert, director of the Jackson Zoological Park, takes viewers on a tour of the zoo and explains some of its extensive expansion plans.

A short stop in Amory is next with a view of Engine 1529, the engine that pulled Franklin Delano Roosevelt's car to town on his way to dedicate the TVA.

"Mississippi Roads" samples some of the famous barbecue at Jeannie's Inn in McComb where Hal Washington does the cooking outdoors with his own mixture of hickory and sassafras wood while Annie Washington prepares the sauce.

For musical entertainment, legendary blues artist Eugene Powell of Greenville performs "Pony Blues."

QUILTING

A new set of "Lap Quilting with Georgia Bonesteel" programs—her third series—will be telecast at 1 p.m., Sundays, on Mississippi ETV.

In this new series, Ms. Bonesteel takes viewers step-by-step through pattern drafting, quilt design, quilt construction and small-item construction in the form of wall hangings, tote bags and other fabric creations. Each new episode includes a question-and-answer session in addition to idea-sharing from across the country.

In addition to quilts, she also showcases an array of quilted wearables as well as holiday decorations. Also included are quilting projects for church and civic groups.

INVESTMENT VALUE

Q: Do you have any information that indicates why people continue to buy homes even after interest rates have risen to such high levels? I am curious as to what motivates homebuyers in this day and time. C.L., Taylorsville

A: Dear C.L.: Why did you buy your last house? If you are like most homeowners in the United States you were motivated by the potential investment value of a home, as well as a desire for security and privacy.

In a survey appearing in "Professional Builder" magazine, almost two-thirds of the respondents felt that there is no better place to invest money than in a house.

This may be surprising in light of the fact that the 1980s have been a time of high interest rates.

In the past, a homebuyer acquired a fixed-rate low interest mortgage.

In recent years, homebuyers have been confronted with high interest, variable rate mortgages.

Nevertheless, potential buyers still cite the potential rise in the value of their home as the major force behind the purchase decision.

In addition, the same survey showed that well over half of the respondents listed security and privacy as their primary emotional motivations for buying a home.

These motivational factors held true for all age groups, while factors such as life-style and family considerations varied in importance with the age of the homeowner.

Despite costs and complex financial arrangements, people still view home ownership as a means of achieving both monetary and emotional security.

For answers to questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P.O. Box 295, University, Miss. 38677.

SCIENTIST SHORTAGE

Reporters talk with Mississippi State University students in the state for a story on the weekly "Farmweek" series at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 18 on Mississippi ETV.

A shortage of qualified agricultural scientists is predicted for the near future, making job prospects bright for these students.

The story was originally scheduled for Feb. 11, but was postponed due to inclement weather.

Included on each edition of "Farmweek" are current farm prices, market analyses, news and feature stories about state and national agribusiness, weather forecasts, tips for producers of various commodities and a calendar of upcoming agricultural events in Mississippi. "Farmweek" is co-produced by Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Groundbreaking ceremonies held for Waveland's first condos

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Friday for Friendship Oaks Condominiums, Coleman Avenue, Waveland.

The 38 luxury units are being developed by Panorama, Inc. of Waveland.

T.D. (Dix) Ashman, owner of Dix Ashman Enterprises, Inc., a developer and real estate counselor, is chairman of Panorama's board of directors.

At groundbreaking ceremonies, he said, "Each building will represent a different country, as we are trying to build a small world."

Other officers of Panorama are: Milford Lady, president, operator of the Waveland Resort Inn; Dixie Lee Ashman, vice-president, of Ashman Construction Company; and Dixie Ashman, secretary-treasurer, licensed agent with Mollere Realty.

The site, bordered by Beach Boulevard, is located between Coleman Avenue and St. Joseph Street.

A Japanese garden will front the property with a Japanese Pagoda on Beach Boulevard, according to developers.

Economists predict poverty, unemployment, higher prices

Family economists predict that poverty, unemployment and higher prices will continue to dominate the economic scene in 1985.

Interest rates will not decline. In fact it is predicted that mortgage rates will possibly increase from the current rate of 13.25 percent to 14 or 14.5 percent," said Beverly Riggs, a family economics specialist with Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"Also the rate of inflation is expected to be about the same as 1984, five to six percent," Riggs said.

The economic outlook for families was the subject of the recent 1985 Agricultural Outlook Conference held in Washington, D.C. Riggs attended the conference.

"Poverty and unemployment were the buzz words," Riggs said. Between 1979 and 1983 the official poverty rate for all persons rose from 11.7 percent to 15.2 percent. High unemployment and sluggish economic growth contributed to the increase in the poverty rate.

By the end of the decade, the poverty rate is expected to decline to 11.5 percent.

The rate of unemployment rose from 5.8 percent in 1979 to 7.5 percent in 1984. The rate of unemployment is predicted to decrease to seven percent by the end of the decade. Very little decrease is expected in 1985.

The rate of unemployment in Mississippi for 1984 was still higher than the U.S. figure of 7.5 percent. Mississippi's rate of unemployment as of November 1984 was 11 percent.

The Mississippi poverty rate is still above the national figure. Currently 18.7 percent of the state's residents live below the poverty level of $7,412 for a family of four. The U.S. figure for 1983 was 15.2 percent while 1984 data have not been collected.

The group of households headed by women experiencing the greatest increase in poverty was those households where the female head was a full-time homemaker. This is because this group is most likely to depend on welfare benefits. Welfare benefits for these people have not increased enough to offset the increased cost of living.

In Mississippi in 1983, 50 of the 82 counties reported that government payments, such as Social Security, Food Stamps and Welfare, were the primary source of income. The 1983 figures are the latest available.

Households led by women experienced an increase in poverty were those where the female head worked full-time, year-round.

Another encouraging change for working women is that income and employment for women has held up better than for men. The ratio of women's earnings to men's earnings rose between 1979 and 1983, resulting in a narrowing of the wage gap. For full-time, year-round workers this ratio increased from 60 to 72 percent. Data for 1984 have not been released yet.

One reason for gains by women is that a larger percentage of them are employed in white collar jobs in the service sector. This sector of the economy is less vulnerable to unemployment than the blue collar, industrial sector where a majority of men are employed.

Another reason, which has long-term implications, is that the level of work experience and education has increased among women.

More than 60 percent of all women are in the labor force now and this trend is expected to continue.

Working wives prevented family income from eroding more than it might have during the recession years of 1979 to 1983. The decline in income, after adjusting for inflation, was 10 percent among one-earner families with a full-time homemaker wife. In two-earner families the decline was six percent.

Two-earner families can be expected to continue to offset the effects of inflation in 1985.

Housing Trends
The number of households continues to increase so the demand for housing also continues to rise. However, because of the changes in the composition of households, less expensive and smaller housing is in greater demand.

With the increase in households headed by women, more separate housing units are required. Female heads with children more often set up their own households instead of moving in with relatives.

The increase in single individuals has also contributed to more demand for housing. From 1960 to 1984 the percent of households consisting of a person living alone increased from 13 to 23 percent.

Food Trends

Food prices continued to increase in 1984, although at a slower rate than in previous years. Food prices increased 2.1 percent in 1984, the smallest increase since 1967 when food prices increased 3.6 percent.

The 1984 2.1 percent increase is less than the general inflation rate of 4.0 percent as of November 1984.

In 1985 food prices are expected to increase about four percent, almost double the increase in 1984.

Foods expected to increase in price include beef, veal, pork, fish, seafood, salad oils, shortening, fresh fruit, processed fruit, sugar, candy and other sweets, cereal, bakery products and non-alcoholic beverages.

Foods expected to decrease in price include poultry, eggs and vegetables.

Prices for dairy products are expected to remain the same because of an increase in milk production.

Working wives prevented family income from eroding more than it might have during the recession years of 1979 to 1983. The decline in income, after adjusting for inflation, was 10 percent among one-earner families with a full-time homemaker wife. In two-earner families the decline was six percent.

Two-earner families can be expected to continue to offset the effects of inflation in 1985.

Housing Trends

The number of households continues to increase so the demand for housing also continues to rise. However, because of the changes in the composition of households, less expensive and smaller housing is in greater demand.

With the increase in households headed by women, more separate housing units are required. Female heads with children more often set up their own households instead of moving in with relatives.

Chamber slates workshop on beautification

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee in cooperation with the Hancock County Extension Service met to finalize plans for a War on Ugliness Workshop scheduled for Monday, Feb. 25 at Coast Electric Crew Room.

Registration will be at 9:30 a.m., and the workshop will be from 10 a.m. until noon.

Parking will be available at the crew room entrance on Main Street.

Ellis Cuevas, committee chairman, said Dr. Rob T. Chapin, coordinator of Land-Youth Center at Mississippi State University, and Dr. Chad Shipp, director of "Keep Mississippi Beautiful," Department of Agriculture and Commerce, will be featured speakers.

Also, on the agenda, will be Lee Taylor, Hancock county agent, discussing crepe myrtles; and John Davis, area horticulturist, on landscaping.

Janelle Kern reported on the "Low-Tiders," a group of citizens and youth groups interested in picking up glass, cans, trash at low tide on the beach.

Kern and Martha Van Peksi met with Supervisors Sammy Pernicaro of Beat 4 and Jimmy Trayirca of Beat 5 to discuss the beach area between Washington Street and St. Stanislaus.

If the residents in this area wish the beach cleaned, then the supervisors and the Low-Tiders would coordinate their efforts to beautify this spot. Kern reported the next area to be considered would be the Ulman beach area.

Taylor announced a seedling giveaway would be Friday, Feb. 15 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Soil Conservation office in Kiln or at the Forestry Commission office in Bay St. Louis, behind the hospital.

After the crepe myrtle trees are planted, South Mississippi would be a highway of crepe myrtles, as the delay was due to the freezing temperatures. Seedlings would be in bundles of eight and would include cypress, cherry bark oak, green ash, saw-tooth oak, yellow poplar, sycamore and loblolly pine.

March was designated as Clean-up Month, because of the Hancock County Garden Club Pilgrimages.

Cuevas will try to have a proclamation signed by the mayors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and one signed by the supervisors reminding the residents of Clean-up Month in March.

Alice Newkirk encouraged the members of this committee to support the Antique Show and Sale sponsored by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club. The profits from this show will be used to purchase crepe myrtle trees for Hancock County.

After the crepe myrtle trees are planted, South Mississippi would be a highway of crepe myrtles, as the other Coast Counties have already planted the trees on their highways.

The front of the Chamber of Commerce office is in need of landscaping timbers before the final plans of operation Brite Spot can be completed, reported Dorothy Sutton, chairman of this committee.

In the Jourdan River community, the Riverview Homemakers' Club was formed with 13 members attending. It was reported their initial project will be to instigate a Neighborhood Watch Program.

Diamondhead Boy Scout Troop 20 is beginning to clean-up the Rotten Bayou Cemetery in preparation for the Diamondhead Pilgrimage.

The next meeting of the Beautification Committee is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 21 at 2 p.m. in the Chamber Board Room. All committee members are urged to attend this meeting.

Waveland school trustee election set for Mar. 2

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Three persons have qualified for a school trustee position in a March 2, 1985 election to be held at Waveland Elementary School from 2 to 5 p.m.

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District position is one of two elected positions for residents outside Bay St. Louis residing in Waveland and a small section of Shoreline Park.

The three school board members from Bay St. Louis are appointed.

The seat up for election is currently held by 'Margo' Marguerite B. Frommeyer who opposed by L.D. 'Danny' Carter, and Albert W. Von Antz, all of Waveland.

Frommeyer was appointed last year to fill a vacancy created when Betty Diboll moved to Bay St. Louis, who in turn was reappointed to the board to replace James Gunn of Bay St. Louis when his term expired.

The trustee terms are for five years.

J.D. McCullough, school superintendent said, "Procedure for the election calls for a group of qualified electors to meet on the election day and select a chairman and secretary to conduct the election."

"As superintendent, I will have a voter registration book to check persons who are qualified to vote. The school board attorney will also be available in case any questions arise," McCullough added.

Those eligible to vote are registered voters of Waveland and the area outside the corporate limits of Bay St. Louis in the municipal school district.

Black History program set at St. Rose

Hancock County Chapter NAACP and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity are sponsoring a Black History Program featuring a student essay contest at 2 p.m. Saturday in the St. Rose Parish cafeteria on Nécaise Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

Essay contestants will be allowed five minutes to read a biographical sketch of their own composition on a figure from Black history.

Entertainment will be provided by local talent, according to Clarence Harris, NAACP chapter treasurer.

The program is open to the public, Harris noted.

Bay, Hancock teachers set rally

By ELLIS CUEVAS

School teachers from the Bay St. Louis Municipal and Hancock County School Systems are sponsoring a 7:30 p.m. rally tonight at Bay Junior High seeking support for a salary increase in accordance with the Education Reform Act.

John Necaise, a spokesman for the group, stated, "Our local teachers appear to be unanimous in not wanting to take the drastic action of a strike, we want to avert it, if it's in any way possible."

"If all of our negotiations come to nothing, we may not have a choice," Necaise added.

School board approves 1985-86 administrators

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK.

Trustees of the Bay St. Louis School District accepted a recommendation for administrators for the 1985-86 school term Monday night in their regular meeting.

Recommendations by Superintendent J. D. McCullough include Robert Magee, assistant superintendent; Frank Ladner, senior high school principal; W. J. Carmeron, junior high school principal; Willys Rhodes, assistant junior high principal; Roger James, North Bay Elementary principal; James Baldree, Waveland Elementary Principal; and Wilmer Seymour, athletic director.

The recommendations were unanimously approved following a 30-minute executive session discussion.

Later in the meeting, the trustees voted to accept a $1,490 bid from Rebel Sound Systems in Long Beach for an intercom for the senior high school.

One other bid, from Alan Electric of Long Beach for $1,497.17 was also submitted.

McCullough also told the trustees of an upcoming meeting for Mississippi school board members in Gulfport.

Trustees approved a field trip request by French teacher Kathryn Edwards. The field trip will be to Mississippi State University so students can compete in the Foreign Languages Fair in April.

Acting on a recommendation by McCullough, trustees voted to change the March board meeting from the second Monday to the third Monday due to scheduled Spring Holidays, March 11-15.

ALCOHOL ABUSE

"American Playhouse" presents John Ford Noonan's critically acclaimed 1982 Broadway drama "Some Men Need Help," a story of alcohol abuse, at 9 p.m. Monday, Feb. 18 on Mississippi ETV.

The powerful drama carries a simple plot for two passionate players: a man who wants to die and a benevolent neighbor who wants him to live. The conflict between them is born serious and funny.

Treat Williams plays Hudley B. Singleton III, the man bent on his own destruction. Philip Bosco plays Ceilano, an ex-mobster who is his would-be savior.

Weather cooperates for Valentine's Day Race

The Pass Christian Yacht Club Saturday hosted its annual St. Valentine's Day Massacre Yacht Race, so named because of the unusually harsh weather conditions of winter yacht racing.

Mother Nature did not disappoint. The skies were sunny, but the wind chill factor was in the 30's. The wind was blowing out of the east at a constant 20 knots gusting to 25 knots.

The starting cannon was fired at 12:30 p.m. The yachts tacked to the eastern tip of Cat Island against the tide and three to four foot seas. The 12-mile triangle was sailed in under 2½ hours, with the larger yachts averaging six knots per hour.

The yachts ranged in size from 33 to 25 feet in length and sailed under the Performance Handicap Rule.

After the race, the skippers and crew retired to the yacht club for hot toddies and hot Irish coffee.

Tall tales and excuses weighed heavily on the bartender Lucien's ears as he served drinks with an understanding smile.

When the smoke finally cleared, Greg Bertucci and Scotty Barrett sailing their Tartan Ten, "Hot Chocolate," were awarded the first place trophy.

Second was T. Portas' Mull 27 Espreno. Third was Ed Gough's Capri 25, Light Year.

PRC coach, president question football personnel rule changes

Pearl River College head football coach Mike Nelson and school president Dr. Marvin R. White are expressing displeasure over recent rule changes that will extend the number of out-of-state players a team can sign, but limit the overall number of players a school will be allowed to have on the squad.

In the December meeting of the Mississippi Junior College President's Association, the junior college presidents adopted the rule changes in a 10-4 vote.

The new rule will increase the number of out-of-state players from a maximum of 12 to 22 players while setting the total limit of players to 55. The vote was reaffirmed in the association's January meeting and the rule will take effect immediately.

PRC president White was one of the four against the new measure. "I voted against it," Dr. White said. "It is our philosophy that we should have an unlimited squad so that any youngster from our area who wants to play has the opportunity to do so."

With a 55 limit there is the possibility that forty percent of the players will be from outside the PRC district. "It's going to be hard to face the people in our district under those circumstances. We're put in the position of telling a parent from our district that his son can't play because we can only have 55 players.

In the past, Pearl River has had as many as 75 players on the squad. This past season PRC had 65 players dressed out for the home games. A 43 man traveling squad rule will stay in effect.

"A junior college is part of the community," White said. "Our purpose is to serve the community and draw support from the community. I can't see anything in the new rule that enhances that image."

Pearl River College's district includes Forrest, Jefferson Davis, Marion, Lamar, Hancock and Pearl River.

Mike Nelson, Pearl River's new head coach also expressed displeasure over the new rule.

"The way I see it, in the past, a coach was able to give a kid a partial scholarship, or allow him to pay his own way, and bring him along for the future," Nelson said. "But the new rule does away with that. Also, I've always felt that in junior college football, any kid who wants to come out and play should be given the chance."

The new rule is intended to give the smaller and less competitive schools a better chance each year. Nelson said that no players currently under scholarship would be affected.

Great Day of Soccer open to all interested in game

The South Mississippi Soccer Club is sponsoring "A Great Day of Soccer III" Saturday, Feb. 23 at Milner Stadium in Gulfport.

Pete Morgenthaler, committee chairman for the event, said, "Soccer is a great sport, and it's catching on big in South Mississippi. The event, our third 'Great Day of Soccer' should be bigger and better this year."

The event is open to boys and girls under the age of 19.

"It's a great chance to learn all about soccer from the experts and have lots of fun," Morgenthaler added.

Five soccer skills will be tested throughout the day, including long distance kicking, juggling, a throw-in for distance, goal kick/speed passing, and dribbling.

Prizes will be given to all participants.

"A Great Day of Soccer III" is an image building program for soccer on the Gulf Coast, designed to stimulate interest in soccer and to recognize individual and team achievements in soccer skills and techniques," he continued.

The event is not restricted to local groups or leagues in soccer programs, but rather open to all individuals under the age of 19, he emphasized.

State powerlifting championships set Saturday at Brother Peter Gym

The 18th annual Mississippi Invitational Powerlifting championships will get underway in Bay St. Louis at the Brother Peter Memorial Gym on the campus of St. Stanislaus at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Lifters from Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Texas and Missouri will compete against Mississippi lifters.

This is the oldest powerlifting competition in this part of the country and is sanctioned by the American Drug Free Powerlifting Association, according to Brother Bennett, SC, of St. Stanislaus, meet coordinator.

Local and area lifters will be participating with the possibility of some new American records being set.

A $3 admission charge, once a person is stamped, will allow them to come and go as they please. The contest should end around 6 p.m.

Proceeds will go to the Right-to-Life movement.

Testing will be done to be sure that the contestants have not been using steroids or other strength-inducing drugs. The basic premise of the healthy alternative is to promote fair competition, Bennett said.

DRUG-FREE SANCTION—David Shavers of Gulfport, lifting in the 165-pound class, will attempt to break his personal best mark of 965 pounds in the Mississippi Invitational Powerlifting Championships Saturday at St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis. The event is sanctioned by the American Drug-Free powerlifting Association, Inc.

ABBEY VISIT—Scouts from Troop 217 sponsored by Our Lady of the Gulf Church and Pere Le Due Council No. 1522, Knights of Columbus recently visited St. Joseph's Abbey and Seminary at St. Benedict, La., near Covington. The visit was part of their work toward receiving the Catholic "Ad Altare Dei" Award. The Scouts have attended eight one-hour sessions preparing for this award. In January the Scouts attended a Catholic Retreat, were tested on their work and if they passed, will receive their awards in May at the Cathedral in Biloxi from Bishop Joseph Howze. Par-

Boy Scout Troop 217 presented live displays at the Troop Rally held recently at Our Lady of the Gulf Church. The rally was part of a program to encourage youths to join the Scouting program.

The troop recently braved the cool weather for a camping trip at McLeod Water Park.

Scouts of Troop 217 joined with Troop 61 of New Orleans to enjoy the trip. The Scouts hiked the nature trails, played football and enjoyed a great campfire Saturday night despite the low temperature of 29 degrees.

Any youth, 10 and a half years or older who would like to join in the fun can call 452-7540 for more information or attend a meeting.

Troop 217 is sponsored by Our Lady of the Gulf Parish and the Knights of Columbus Pere Le Due Council No. 1522.

Troop meetings are at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 315 Main St., Bay St. Louis.

HOCUS-POCUS BOOKKEEPING

More than 8,000 U.S. farmers attending the American Farm Bureau Federation's 66th annual meeting recently in Honolulu, Hawaii, heard J. Peter Grace, head of President Reagan's sector survey on cost control, charge the U.S. government to control, charge the U.S. government with "hocus-pocus Mickey Mouse bookkeeping."

Grace used the Farmers Home Administration as an example of a practice that he said runs rampant throughout the government. "If you ask almost anyone in Congress how much the Farmers Home Administration is spending," Grace said, said, "they will get it wrong."

"For example, in just one program—the Agricultural Credit Insurance Fund—total obligations were $13.5 billion in 1984. Outlays per the books, however, are reported at only $1.5 billion, or a little more than one-tenth of actual spending," Grace said.

"Do you want to know how the government can spend 9.2 times the amount of the reported outlays? It's magic, and if we in the private sector tried it, we would probably end up in jail."

"This particular bit of hocus-pocus was accomplished by the government selling about $7 billion in agricultural credit insurance loans to itself—to its off-budget federal financing bank. Poof—they are gone from the budget!" he exclaimed.

Grace told the nation's farm leaders that one of his first assignments by the President was to find out how many federal employees there were, where they worked, and what they were doing.

"The Office of Management and Budget didn't have the answers. No one did. To this day, no one has the information all together on how many locations or offices the government has or where they are," Grace said.

"All of this, of course, leads to conclusions that few in government really care as it is not their money—and that the people, the taxpayers and our children who are inheriting $4.4 trillion of liabilities to pay, are not demanding the needed steps that must be taken to get his deficit situation under control," he added.

Grace said that his commission is appalled by the information gap that exists in the federal government. "Most government officials don't even know what the government is spending. You can go through several thousand pages of annual budget data and you still won't know what government spends, because the government only reports net outlays, actual spending that is for collections and receipts," he said.

"Attempts to balance the federal budget by raising personal income taxes would mean that the median income family would pay 73 percent more than they pay now," Grace said, "and about $3,833 or 428 times what they paid in 1948."

"This ignores the ever increasing deficits that lie ahead if nothing is done to stop these trends and the 12 percent interest and possibly more that our children will pay each year on the accumulated national debt."

Grace urged farmers to demand fiscal responsibility in government and stop the "intergenerational rape" that happens when future generations of taxpayers are burdened with the debts and unfunded liabilities left to them by the current generation of spendthrift politicians.

"There is no way that this isn't going to go on-and-on unless you take up the cudgel for your children and your grandchildren," he said.

Shannon O'Brien

OLA picks O'Brien to attend seminar

Shannon O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien of Waveland, was nominated by Our Lady Academy to attend the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation (HOBY) Leadership Seminar for outstanding high school sophomores.

Sophomores can candidates are judged on leadership ability, sensitivity to others and the desire to learn and share knowledge with others.

The purpose of the leadership seminar is to recognize and encourage these promising 10th graders.

A three-day expense-paid weekend seminar will be conducted in Spring 1985 in all 50 states.

One boy and girl will be selected to attend an all expense paid week long seminar held in August in Los Angeles, Calif.

This International Leadership Seminar is coordinated by Loyola Marymount University in cooperation with the School of Business Administration at the University of Southern California.

U.S. Coast Guard offers Academy introduction

High school juniors have an opportunity to live at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn., from Aug. 5 to 9.

This opportunity to personally participate in the Academy experience is sponsored by Division III, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary to assist strong candidates in their college decision.

Participants will have more than a glimpse of cadet life; they will live for five days at the only service academy where admission is solely through competitive examination.

Preliminary applications are available from Margaret Katz, Division III, USCG Auxiliary, 740 West Beach, Pass Christian, MS 39571, 601-452-7113.

Bay student participates in cooperative program

Frederick J. Bontemps of Bay St. Louis is participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University.

As a major in electrical engineering, the student is working toward a BS degree and at the same time is working as a co-op student in alternating semesters in Jackson with Siemens-Alis, Incorporated.

The Cooperative Education Program is a five-year educational program which allows a student in various fields of accountancy, agriculture and home economics, arts and sciences, business and industry, education, engineering, and forestry to affiliate with a business, industrial, or governmental firm while enrolled at MSU. Once all of the degree requirements are complete, Bontemps will begin full-time work with the cooperating firm or will join another firm which demands this particular training.

PRICED

Beef Roulades

1 (3-pound) boneless
sirloin tip roast
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 cup butter or margarine, divided
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup red cooking wine
Hot cooked rice

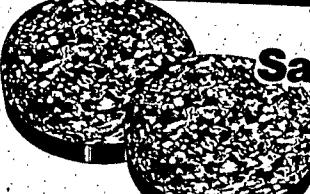

Salt and pepper
2 cups soft breadcrumbs
2 hard-cooked eggs, grated
3 tablespoons chopped
fresh parsley
1 can onion soup (undiluted)
1/2 cup sliced mushrooms

Slice roast into six 1/4-inch slices. Sprinkle beef with salt and pepper; set aside. Melt 1/4 cup butter in a large Dutch oven. Add breadcrumbs and garlic; sauté 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in eggs, parsley and cheese. Spoon 1/3 cup breadcrumbs mixture on each beef slice. Roll each piece jellyroll fashion; secure with wooden picks. Melt remaining butter in Dutch oven; brown beef rolls over medium heat. Combine soup, cooking wine and mushrooms; pour over beef. Cover, reduce heat, and simmer 1 hour or until tender. Remove wooden picks; serve with rice. Yield: 6 servings.

Move planned for school superintendent's office

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Hancock County Supervisors voted Thursday to purchase a telephone system for the county school superintendent's new offices.

Following the installation of telephones, the superintendent's offices should be relocated to the administration building at Stennis International Airport within three weeks, Superintendent Terrell Randolph said.

"We can't move the offices prior to end of the month billing and payroll," Randolph said, "but we should be moved by March 15."

The telephones will be purchased on a lease-purchase agreement at a state bid price from Scientific Telecommunication of Greenwood. The total cost for the phones will be $5,974.43, to be paid in 36 monthly installments of $202.60.

Also during the supervisors' meeting, Supervisor James Travica submitted two estimates for 3,600 square feet of insulation for the superintendent's new offices.

Markel Lumber Company of Waveland had the low bid of $1,072. W. A. McDonald of Bay St. Louis submitted a bid of $1,119.

Supervisor A. A. Keller, board president, announced during the meeting that a petition in protest of the bond sale for the new hospital had been filed in the chancery clerk's office.

Only 357 of the required 2,000 signatures were included on the petition, so the bond sale would proceed as scheduled, he said.

Hancock General Hospital Administrator Phil Langston told the supervisors that plans for the new hospital are more than 50 percent complete and that the bid package should be out by mid-April.

Hancock resident Mary Caillier asked the supervisors how much the consumers' cost would rise when the new hospital was completed.

Langston assured Mrs. Caillier that patients' costs would be competitive.

"Our prices won't be any higher than other coast hospitals," he said.

In other business, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson asked the board request a local and private bill allowing the sheriff's department officers to use a radar to check speeding.

Peterson told the board Senator Gene Taylor had said a state bill allowing sheriffs to use radars would not likely be passed.

According to Peterson, Taylor said he had received several calls and letters from Hancock Countians in support of the bill.

The board unanimously voted to request the bill.

They also voted to request for a local and private bill so the supervisors can use money from their road and bridge funds to maintain recreational facilities in their districts.

The bill would allow supervisors to use up to $25,000 each, or the equivalent of returns from one mill in taxes for the county.

Beat 3 Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner requested the resolution.

He said a car had hit the fence of a ballpark in his district and he needed to get that fixed, as well as needing funds for the general maintenance of the park.

The board also agreed that Beat 4 Supervisor Sam Pernicario should represent the county at the National Association of Counties Legislative Conference in Washington, D.C. in March.

While in Washington, the organization will be lobbying for revenue sharing. The county currently receives approximately $400,000 to $500,000 in federal revenue sharing annually.

Sheriff begins crackdown

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A concentrated crack down on out-of-state license tags has begun in Hancock County, according to Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

Peterson said late Friday, "Circuit Court is now over for awhile and the sheriff's office will have time to set up road blocks to check illegal tags, drivers licenses, and brake tags."

"The law states a person has 30 days to get a Mississippi tag upon moving in from out-of-state and 60 days for a drivers license," Peterson stated.

Some 40 tickets were issued on Thursday by two officers for auto violations in just a few hours, Peterson said.

Peterson continued, "Our office has received numerous reports about autos being driven by residents with out-of-state tags, and road blocks will be set up especially near schools."

Persons taken to court are usually issued a fine in addition to having to purchase proper tags and licenses, the sheriff stated.

Residents to serve on beachfront improvements advisory council

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Several local residents gathered Thursday with representatives of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission and the Bureau of Marine Resources for an organizational meeting of the Hancock County Technical Advisory Council for the Beachfront Improvement Project.

Agreeing to serve on the council were attorney John Scafidi; Clarice Gustin, Chamber of Commerce director; Hancock County Supervisor Bert Courtright; Don Murray, county building inspector; and Terrence Feeney.

Others invited to be a member of the council include C. C. McDonald, Frank Lee, Larry Bennett, Sam Pernicario, Bobby Boudin, Larry Seal, Louis Smolensky, Dick Thomas and Ellis Cuevas.

The council is part of the overall plan for beachfront improvements in both Hancock and Harrison counties.

Improvements planned in the project include replenishment of the sand beach and construction of public showers, restrooms and recreational facilities, such as piers. The emphasis of the project will be restoration and conservation, not commercialization.

The study currently underway to make a master plan for improvements is being partially funded by the Bureau of Marine Resources.

Jeff Taylor of Gulf Regional Planning, who chaired the meeting, told members to encourage any other citizens who would be interested in serving on the council to attend the next meeting.

The council has tentatively planned to meet at 4 p.m. on the first Wednesday of each month.

At the meeting Thursday Taylor outlined objectives of the beachfront improvement plan for the council and listed possible working subcommittees including legal, financial, erosion and environment, facility planning and public relations.

The project needs this master plan so improvements can be made over a period of time, Taylor said.

He added that there was not a bundle of money just waiting to be used for this project but there is a need for sound plans that maximize local monies.

Taylor said having the financial plan as well as the improvement plan could assist in matching the local funds with state and federal dollars.

"They want to know that, not only that you have your planning act together, but that you have your financial act together and can carry some portion of the cost of the project," he said.

Taylor said although the projects for the two counties is for beachfront improvement, each county will basically have their own "little master plan."

"Even though the two beaches are similar in that they are sand, they are different in that they are two geographically different places, and subject to different erosion problems, different use problems and just different perceptions on how the beach should be used by the people who live around them," he said.

Where the two counties can get together is on the sharing of consultants that will be hired, legal research and investigation of ways to solve some of the problems, Taylor said.

"A reason for trying to put together a fairly comprehensive and

Washington's Birthday, Mardi Gras bring respite

By DENA BISNETTE

Mardi Gras celebrations and a federal holiday will change schedules this week for local schools, government offices, post offices and banks.

Weekend Mardi Gras parades continue at 2 p.m. Sunday with the St. Paul's Carnival Association Parade in Pass Christian.

Floats and other parade entries will line up at Davis Avenue and move west on Scenic Drive to US-90 and Henderson Avenue. The parade will then turn north at St. Louis Street and move east on West Second Street, disbanding at War Memorial Park.

In Bay St. Louis the Krewe of Real People will continue accepting entry applications for parade participants through Monday.

The KOPR parade will begin at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the corner of St. Francis and Bookter streets in Bay St. Louis.

The parade will proceed east on Bookter to Necaise, north on Necaise to Main, east on Main to Second and down Second to Bay St. Louis City Hall, where Krewe royalty will meet city officials for a toast. After stopping at city hall, the parade will continue on Second Street to Union, Union to Hancock, Hancock to Sycamore, Sycamore to Old Spanish Trail, Old Spanish Trail to Bookter, and Bookter to St. Francis.

Participants will disband at Comerger Park.

Anyone interested in entering the Krewe of Real People Parade as an individual or unit may contact Charles Johnson at 467-9204, Jean Dorsey at 467-7980 or Lonnie Bradley at 377-3996.

The Krewe of Triton will also parade on Tuesday. The Triton Parade begins at 2 p.m. at Our Shopping Center in Waveland and will move east down US-90 to the A&P Shopping Center in Bay St. Louis, where the participants will disband. Bay St. Louis and Hancock County Schools will close Monday and Tuesday in observance of Mardi Gras.

Because city hall will be closed, Tuesday's Bay City Council meeting has been moved to 7 p.m. Thursday. Garbage collection in Bay St. Louis will continue according to its usual schedule, but Tuesday collections in Waveland will be moved to Wednesday.

Local financial institutions, with the exception of the NSTL branch of Hancock Bank, will remain open Monday.
